The purposes of, and legal basis for, processing your personal data

LE34 processes personal data in connection with projects for customers, e.g. cadastral procedures, property registration.

The processing of your personal data is based on Article 6 (1) (b) of the Data Protection Directive on processing necessary for fulfilment of a contract (agreement/requisition).

Categories of personal data

In principle, LE34 only processes general personal data, particularly addresses and contact details. These include name, civil registration (CPR) number, address, telephone number, email address and land registry title number.

Recipients or categories of recipients

LE34 does not disclose personal data to anyone other than interested parties, unless this is necessary for fulfilment of tasks. Should this be necessary, data will solely be disclosed to relevant public authorities.

Transfer to recipients in non-eu countries, including international organisations

We do not transfer your personal data to recipients outside the EU and EEA. All personal data are stored on servers inside Denmark.

Your rights

You are entitled at any time to request insight into the information that LE34 holds about you, updating or correcting your personal information, limiting the processing of your personal information, and to object to our processing of your information. You have the right to data portability, that is, to get your personal information delivered in a structured, accessible and machine-readable format, transferring them to third parties or getting your personal information deleted.

Appeal procedures

You also have the right to and may at any time complain to The Danish Data Protection Agency regarding our processing of your personal information through the following contact information:

The Danish Data Protection Agency, Carl Jacobsens Vej 35, 2500 Valby, Danmark.
